Koreans Continue Big Demonstration: US Asks for Calm

Demonstrators In Futile Stand Due To Intervention

SEOUL (AP)—Three hundred shouting Koreans, ignoring a "no violence" edict by President Syngman Rhee, stormed the causeway to Wolmi Island again today but were turned back by U.S. troops manning tear gas guns and fire hoses.

The milling demonstrators, continuing South Korea's campaign to drive out Communist members of neutral truce inspection teams, broke up quickly before the determined stand.

Waving banners and chanting slogans, the mob drove as far as barbed wire barricades thrown up by the Americans, then faltered and retreated.

They were trying to reach the billets of Czech and Polish members of the inspection groups stationed on the island just outside the port of Inchon.

It was the third attempt to storm the island in five days. The disorders began last Saturday with an ultimatum for the Communist inspectors to get out by midnight next Saturday.

Twenty-two Americans and 80 Koreans have been injured, none seriously.

The Inchon demonstration contrasted sharply with the comparative quiet that settled over the other four ports where the inspectors operate.

Lutherans Pray Guidance Over Proposed Split

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—The Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin prayed for "guidance" today as it opened a biennial convention which will debate a break of ties with the Lutheran Church-Synod of Missouri.

The prayer for "guidance" came at a communion service attended by 250 delegates of the 325,000-member synod. The Missouri Synod has 2,250,000 members.

The two synods have maintained communion, pulpits and missionary cooperation since 1872, but have differed in recent years on doctrine.

The Wisconsin synod objects to Lutherans becoming military chaplains and to church sponsorship of Boy Scout troops.

It objects to chaplains being responsible to military commanders and "not Christ alone." It also objects that the Boy Scout oath makes the term "God" so broad as to be acceptable to Christians and non-Christians alike, and therefore presents "a God who is definitely not the God of the Bible."

The Missouri Synod cooperates in both the chaplain and scout programs. There also are other doctrinal differences.

Both synods have members in states other than those contained in their official titles.

Estimate Corn Crop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today forecast this year's corn crop at 3,477,711,000 bushels and the wheat crop at 910,958,000 bushels.

The corn figure is 28,044,000 bushels more than last month's forecast by the department a month ago. It compares also with 2,964,639,000 produced last year and 3,080,115,000 for the 10-year (1944-53) average.

The wheat estimated is 50,627,000 bushels more than last month's forecast of 860,331,000 bushels. It compares with last year's crop of 969,781,000 and with the 10-year average of 1,154,073,000.

The wheat crop included 689,403,000 bushels of winter wheat, 221,555,000 bushels of spring wheat other than durum and 14,293,000 bushels of durum.

It's On the Way

It's muggy again and there will be some people who, like lovers of Gilbert and Sullivan, wish every detail of Fair Week according to tradition, even the hot, sultry weather. Soon they should be happy.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 65, 86 at 1 p.m., and 87 at 2 p.m.

The temperature one year ago today, high 89, low 65; two years ago, high 95, low 64; and three years ago, high 89, low 62.

Mostly fair tonight and Thursday. High Thursday in 80s.

Dulles Declares US Will Provide Safety for Team

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles appealed to South Korea today to exercise patience and avoid violent action in efforts to oust truce supervisors from the country.

Dulles asserted emphatically at a news conference that the United States intends to live up to its obligation to protect the truce team members—who include Communist Czechs and Poles.

South Koreans have staged violent demonstrations against the truce teams, in which a number of American soldiers have been injured, none seriously. Korean President Syngman Rhee has demanded that they get out of his country.

Dulles agreed with South Korean charges that these Reds are little more than spies, but he said he does not think information they pick up can imperil the Republic of Korea.

Dulles also rejected, in response to questions, the whole idea of trying to unify Korea or any other divided nation in today's world by force.

Dulles said that because of the devastation of atomic war the country might be unified only for insects and not for people. He added that he doubts whether that would be satisfactory even to the hot-tempered, Red-hating south Koreans.

Dulles was questioned in considerable detail about the Korean problem and the truce team. Syngman Rhee's government has given the Czech, Polish, Swiss and Swedish truce supervisors until Saturday to leave.

Dulles said there has been a rising tide of resentment in South Korea because of the presence of the inspection teams and the feeling that they were not performing the armistice functions they were supposed to perform but that the Red members were rather acting as spies in the South while corresponding teams in the North were not able to perform their truce functions.

This Korean sentiment, Dulles went on, has considerable justification. But the United States, he said, while sympathizing with the sentiment, cannot approve the means of its expression which the South Koreans have taken. Under the 1953 armistice settlement, he said, this country has an obligation to protect the truce teams and the United States government expects to carry out that obligation.

Session to Plan SAFB Picnic

A coffee and doughnut session for workers on the Sedalia Air Force Base picnic to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell Hotel to complete plans.

There is a need for an abundance of food and specially chicken, with each family asked to bring at least two chickens. Mrs. Frank Wagner, food and hostess chairman, plans to have the pieces of chicken separated so that it will be easier for all to find the piece they want and thus move the lines along more quickly. This can be done easily if each family will wrap the various pieces separately in waxed paper or foil. There will be large pans with all the legs in one pan, all the breasts in another, the thighs in another, backs and wings in another and livers and gizzards in another telling what part of the chicken is in each pan.

For those who cannot attend but who want to contribute food toward the picnic there will be two receiving stations, one at the Chamber of Commerce office, 113 East Fourth, and the other at Liberty Park.

Mrs. Anna Bagby is chairman of the good will committee in charge of the picnic and James T. Denny is general chairman.

Chemical Unions Plan Discussion of Merger

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Delegates to the AFL Chemical Workers Union convention today heard a proposal from its CIO counterpart, the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, for discussions which may lead to a merger of the two unions.

Edward R. Moffett, president of the AFL Chemical Workers, read a telegram from the CIO group's executive board, now meeting in Denver, suggesting such a merger "could well set a pattern to be followed by many other unions in other jurisdictional fields."

The CIO Chemical Workers has about 600,000 workers and the AFL union about 90,000.

School Project Okayed

Board Hires Four New Teachers But Vacancies Existing As Term Draws Near

The federal government has issued formal approval of the contract for the Washington School project. The architect has been authorized by the board of education to issue a "work order" at the board's regular August meeting Tuesday evening at Smith-Cotton High School.

The government requires the project be completed within 120 days which will mean it will interfere with operation of the lunch room until about Thanksgiving. The students will have to bring their lunches, according to Dr. Heber U. Hunt, superintendent of schools.

In other action, the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Sue Thompson, remedial reading teacher at the high school. Mrs. Thompson's husband is being transferred to England and she has announced she will return to her home in Omaha.

The resignation of Lawrence R. Hudson, physical education instructor at Horace Mann, was also accepted. Hudson has announced he will go into the insurance business.

Four new teachers were put on the Sedalia faculties. Mrs. Leonora Lewis was hired as an elementary teacher. She is a graduate of Central Missouri State College and has taught a number of years in Ottumwa and Stover.

Mrs. Margaret Small, who taught fourth grade at Mark Twain last year, has been rehired as an elementary teacher. She had previously decided to resign.

At Hubbard, Naomi Brooks was approved to teach commerce. She is a graduate of Lincoln University. John Williams, 29, was approved as music teacher. He is also a Lincoln University graduate and has taught in Stillwater, Okla.

There are still at least three vacancies for this fall to be filled by the board. Dr. Hunt stated, "This has undoubtedly been the most difficult year to find teachers that I have experienced since I have been in Sedalia."

The board approved an increase in salary for substitute teachers from six dollars per day to eight dollars for the first ten consecutive days of teaching in the same position and after that time substitutes will be paid on the basis of the regular salary schedule.

Representatives of the Country Club and nearby additions discussed transportation problem with the board. They were told that some arrangements would be made if at all possible by the board.

Mrs. Virginia Raskin, 2430 Lane, stated that residents in those areas were willing to finance any transportation arrangement the board could make.

Carson Meredith was awarded a contract for tuning and repairing the pianos in the public schools. Tuning will be done on a bid of seven dollars each. One piano each at Washington, Jefferson and Mark Twain will be repaired. The board accepted Meredith's suggestion that a piano at Horace Mann and one at Whittier were not worth repairing until they could be replaced.

A bid was accepted from the Musicians Supply Co. on a string bass, a sousaphone and two flutes for a total cost of $734.50 with the inclusion of a reconditioned cello at no extra cost. Two pianos were purchased, one from Shaw Music Co., and one from Jefferson Music Co. at $495 each. The board con-

Safety Plaque Awarded To Local Co-Op

Organization Has 148,000 Hours Without Accident

A safety plaque for 148,000 man hours has been presented to the Central Missouri Electric Co-Op, Inc., by the American Motorist Insurance Co., through Frank Kercheval, safety engineer for the insurance company at Kansas City. The plaque was accepted by George Ray, manager, on behalf of the organization.

The presentation was made at the office of the Central Missouri Electric Co-Op, Fifth and Osage, Tuesday afternoon by Mr. Kercheval and Keith Yount, Sedalia agent for the insurance firm.

The present record of man hour safety started on March 22, 1952, and is still current. The plaque is the second to be presented to the local Co-Op, the first being for 106,000 safe man hours, and the second set for the record up to March 22, 1955.

Leland D. Lavelle was manager of the local Co-Op at the time the present record was started. He stressed the importance of safety and after his death in June, 1953, George Ray was named the manager.

Ray stated there are 21 employees of the Central Missouri Electric Co-Op and the fact the organization was just recognized for the 148,000 man hours of safety does not necessarily reflect the record to date. The record to date is now more than 160,000 safe man hours of work.

Kercheval stated the local Co-Op is one of four Electric Co-Ops which have a record of more than 100,000 safe man hours of work in the state of Missouri.

The safe man hours of work is established on a theory of going without a loss of time due to disability injuries. This is outstanding due to the factors under which most of these employees have to work, especially the linemen who must work with high voltage during rain, sleet and in ice storms, not to mention the highway traffic hazards.

It was pointed out by Manager Ray that the State Safety Program was first organized in 1946. Since that time Ray has served on the committee as a member for five years and was president one term. He was off the committee for several years and is now back as a member.

Former Chamber Presidents Will Head Nominating Group

K. U. Love, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced at the board meeting Tuesday afternoon that the last five presidents of the Chamber of Commerce would serve as the nominating committee for the board of directors and officers for next year.

Members of the committee will be Claude L. Boul, chairman, Jack Cunningham, Aaron Haller, Harold Seaburg and Robert Overstreet, with Love and Floyd Priddy as ex-officio members. Ballots will be sent out to the membership and the results of the election will be announced on Oct. 31.

Mrs. Anna Bagby, chairman of the good will committee, announced the picnic which will be held at Liberty Park on Tuesday, Aug. 16, for the Sedalia Air Force, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and asked that all board members and their wives assist at the picnic. Mrs. Bagby stressed the need for food and said that a minimum of two fried chickens should be in the baskets, as well as a salad, baked beans and dessert. A receiving station will be at the park where the food may be taken.

Jack Faber told of the State Fair parade which is also being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. He announced that Kenzie Miller is in charge and that a float is being made for the Chamber of Commerce for the parade.

The Missouri State Fair Ham Breakfast, which will be held at the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria on Monday morning at which Harry S. Truman, former president, will be speaker, was announced by K. U. Love. This is also sponsored by the C. of C.

Love also stated that D. Kelly Scruton, who has been working to bring air transportation to Sedalia, stated that federal aid would be available provided one airline wanted to come to Sedalia. He then told of plans for a north-south runway at the Municipal Airport.

Mrs. Ike L. Warren reported for Mrs. Marjorie Garanson, chairman of the membership committee, that three new members had been secured the past month. They are Stout and Sons Salvage Co.,

Hovers Near Damage Done In 1954 Storm

HATTERAS, N.C. (AP)—Hurricane Connie, her actions remarkably similar to last year's Hazel, was poised off the Carolina mainland today, threatening the entire East Coast. Winds up to 135 miles an hour raged around her center.

Her movements were erratic, her target on the mainland still in doubt.

She moved sluggishly at about seven miles an hour on a northwesterly course that would send her ashore in the near vicinity of Hazel's old wreckage. Her general makeup could cause equally as much damage—untold millions.

In its 5 a.m. EST, advisory, the Miami Weather Bureau said:

"The hurricane continues to move slowly and somewhat erratically but generally toward the northwest at about 7 m.p.h. at 5 a.m. (EST)."

"It was centered near Latitude 31.2 North, Longitude 75.3 West or about 250 miles east-southeast of Charleston. Highest winds are still estimated 135 miles an hour over a small area near the center while hurricane winds extend 120 miles north and east and 50 miles southwest of the center. Gale extended 300 miles to the north and east and 150 miles to the southwest."

"Movement will continue rather slow at about 7 m.p.h. probably toward the northwest for the next 12 hours. This movement if continued could bring the hurricane winds dangerously close to the coast of the Carolinas in several hours and all precautions should be continued."

"Winds will continue to increase slowly along the coast and tides which are now 2 to 4 feet above normal along the Carolina coast will continue to rise and will be abnormally high west and north of the storm."

"Hurricane warnings are displayed from Cape Lookout, N.C., to the Virginia Capes and northeast storm warnings elsewhere from Savannah to Block Island and there is a hurricane alert northward to Provincetown, Mass. All precautions should be continued in the area of warning display and all interests should remain on the alert for further advices."

Thief Robs Blind Man But Quickly Caught by Police

Sedalia police officers did fast work Wednesday morning in apprehending a thief, having him under arrest within 45 minutes after the robbery.

The man, who gave his name as Theodore H. Campbell of Topeka, Kan., entered the court house at 11:30 Wednesday morning and proceeded to the concession stand which is operated by Brooks Baple, who is blind. Upon finding an "easy job" he took a rug, which Baple makes, off the counter of the stand. The janitor at the court house and Raymond Wilson observed the theft and called the police.

While the police were checking, Campbell made his way to west Pettis Street, there selling the rug, which was valued at $4.75, to Mrs. Davis at 518 West Pettis for $1.50.

With the money for the sale in his pocket, Campbell made his way to the Union Bus Depot, only to be met there by officers Franklin and Epstein. After questioning, Campbell admitted the theft and was taken to the city jail. He is being held there on a larceny charge.

The money for the sale was returned to Mrs. Davis, and the rug was returned to Baple.

Steele Cuts Taxes

STEELE (AP)—The Steele City Council has voted to reduce tax rates about 23 per cent to offset a 25 per cent increase in real property valuation ordered by the State Tax Commission.

City Atty. George K. Reeves of Caruthersville, who helped draw up the new tax ordinance, said today the new rate is $1.39 on each $100 of assessed valuation. The old rate was $1.85. The change is effective Jan. 1.

Weekly Insect Report—

Hopper Damage on Increase; Dry Conditions Contribute

By STIRLING KYD
Extension Entomologist
and GEORGE W. THOMAS
Survey Entomologist

GRASSHOPPERS—Hopper damage has picked up considerably during the past 10 days or so, and will undoubtedly continue to increase as long as the hot and dry conditions hold.

We have had several questions on the small hoppers that many folks are now noticing. Of the four main kinds of hoppers in this state, only two have a second generation. The hatch for the second generation on these two—the red-legged and the Mexican hoppers—is now largely over. The great bulk of small hoppers now being seen are of these two species.

There is only one generation a year on the two larger kinds of hoppers—the large yellow differential, and the large two-striped hopper. At the present time, the two-striped is beginning its egg laying, and in the southern part of the state, will begin to disappear during the next few weeks. The differential hoppers are now largely adults, although because of a delayed hatch on some of the eggs, there are still a good many immature individuals mixed in with the adults.

With the way damage has increased just as soon as the rains have let up, it becomes even more obvious that adequate moisture has been the main reason damage has been less than last year. But the big problem now is fall seeded crops.

The only way to adequately protect fall seedlings is to get rid of hoppers now in fields and pastures adjoining those fields to be fall seeded. It is almost impossible to stop hoppers from feeding on fall-sown crops after the crops begin to come up.

The insecticides used to control hoppers work largely as stomach poisons. This means the insecticide must be applied to foliage upon which hoppers are feeding. It does no good to spray bare ground. But when hoppers are sitting there waiting for a seedling to show through the soil, there is no way to get the insecticide on the plant. Hoppers chew it back down to the ground line before it gets large enough to be protected by a spray.

Last fall, the margins of many fall-sown fields were stripped for several rods. There seems little doubt that the same thing will happen again this year unless steps are taken now to prevent it.

Incidentally, these red mites that folks are noticing on the wings of hoppers are not important in killing this year's hoppers. Consider them about the same as fleas on a dog, as far as bothering the hoppers is concerned. They are important, however, as a predator on hopper eggs. In the fall, the mites drop to the ground and get into hopper egg pods, and can be of great help in destroying large numbers of eggs by feeding on them during the winter months.

BLISTER BEETLES — Blister

DALLAS, Tex. (P)—Firemen here had a sweet assignment yesterday—but two of the smoke eaters got stung.

Fire Lt. E. L. Reuck told of the man who tried to remove a bee comb from a tree:

"He had cut a limb out in the section where the comb was located, about 40 feet up. Then the comb broke. It looked like nothing but a fire hose could wash up the mess. . . . Only a couple of the fellows were stung. The man got stung three times that I know of—but it didn't seem to bother him like seeing that honey all over the place."

beetles are becoming a greater problem. Where it can be used safely, diiodrin at 4 ounces per acre has given good control. In alfalfa, however, we doubt it should be used unless the spray is applied immediately after removing the hay. In fact, since these beetles are hard to kill, the easiest way is to cut the hay. If the beetles are still present as the next crop begins to come on, then spray.

In gardens, methoxychlor dust will usually give protection. It may not kill too many of the beetles, but it will usually make them move out since the mere presence of the dust seems to act as a repellent.

STORED GRAIN INSECTS — Now is the time to be checking small grain stored on the farm. Insects have had time to move into the bins, and if any are present, fumigate immediately. A mixed fumigant, usually containing carbon tetrachloride mixed with ethylene dichloride, carbon disulfide, ethylene, bromide or trichloroethylene, will give good results.

Indian meal moth is beginning to build up in some bins. These insects are hard to control, since fumigants usually will not get the job done. Best bet seems to be to

School Board Takes Integration Problem

HOXIE, Ark. (P) — The Hoxie School Board, which ordered racial integration in local schools, has under advisement a petition asking that segregation be restored.

The petition was presented yesterday by eight committeemen of a citizens group which began boycott of the integrated schools last week.

About 25 Negroes were affected by the integration order issued July 16. The white enrollment is about 1,000. Previously Negro pupils were sent to schools in adjoining towns at public expense.

use a special grain spray containing pyrethrin. Spray just the surface of the grain following directions on the label of the container.

WEBWORMS—There are still a lot of webworms in alfalfa. Folks should be on the watch for them. Easiest way to control is to cut hay that's within a couple of weeks or so of normal cutting.

He Loses to Transport

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—Railroads, cars and boats were hard luck for John R. Hampton, 28. War wasn't so kind to him either.

Hampton twice was shot during merchant marine service in World War II. Six years ago, he suffered a broken back while working for the railroad. Four years later, a car he was driving upset and caught fire. He was badly burned. This month a motor boat in which he was riding exploded near Port Clinton.

Death finally came in a collision while he was driving.

Says Soviet A-Power Plant Has Promise

By Frank Carey
AP Science Reporter

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union told the atoms-for-peace conference today that its first small commercial atomic power plant promises profitable electricity for areas remote from coal supplies.

The Russians conceded, however, that their nuclear power now costs "considerably" more than the output of large Soviet stations burning conventional fuel.

"An atomic power station now is already more profitable than a coal station in regions situated far from coal mines or than coal stations operating on low quality fuel," Russian scientists D. I. Blokhin and N. A. Nikolayev said in their report to the 72-nation congress sponsored by the United Nations.

Three U.S. scientists also held out promise for remote areas with a paper disclosing development of a new "boiling water" atomic process. They described it as "an important step toward the economical production of nuclear power."

The American experts, from the Argonne Laboratories at Lemont, Ill., said their process involved generation of the steam for the turbines inside the reactor rather than in an external boiler. The boiling inside the reactor previously had been considered unsafe, but the report said this had been disproved.

A 5,000-kilowatt plant using the new principle is due to be in operation at the Argonne Laboratories by the latter part of 1956.

The American report said adoption of the boiling water principle will simplify construction and operation of small atomic power plants and will cut the cost of construction and operation.

Small plants using this process, the U.S. report added, are "suitable for use in remote areas or in conjunction with mining or manufacturing operations."

Animals Get Blame

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—State Forester Frank S. Hill, who investigates brush fires, hears all kinds of excuses.

A man accused of setting one told him: "I was burning trash in my back yard. A rabbit ran through the fire, caught fire and ran into the woods, setting them on fire."

A housewife explained another: "I threw a package of old meat in the trash I was burning. Our dog ran into the fire, grabbed the burning package, and ran off into the field, setting the brush on fire."

Youngsters Must Have Good Food, Even in Hot Weather

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.
AP Newfeatures

Appetites do lag during a prolonged hot spell. So, often, does mother's ambition to stand over a hot stove.

However, growing bodies need the same kind of nourishment in hot weather as in cold. Children need milk, meat, vegetables, fruits, cereal in summer as well as in winter.

If you're wise, smart and modern you'll plan meals that contain all these things healthy little bodies need and still not spend much time over the hot stove. Use frozen foods, ready mixes and pre-cooked foods.

From the nutritional point of view, it makes little difference whether the food is hot or cold. Cold soup, jellied chicken, tuna fish salad, all carry the same body building elements as the same foods served hot.

But don't call a moratorium on hot food in hot weather. Children, and the rest of the family too, get tired of a diet of salads. Select your hot foods for their quick cooking qualities; meats that can be broiled or fried rather than baked, soups in cans rather than home made.

Many summertime meals are picnics and food out of doors. If you have a backyard grill you probably have learned lots of tricks for easy good hot meals, and meals where Dad and the kids do the cooking and call it fun.

Summertime picnics have their hazards, too. In hot weather food spoils easily. Germs grow quickly in unrefrigerated food. If food is thoroughly cooked just before it is eaten germs will be killed and the food do you no harm. But if a food like a potato salad, or ground meat for sandwiches is prepared in the morning, then carried several hours in a hot car it may contain so many germs that the whole family will have acute stomach upsets the next day.

Picnics are wonderful, but guard your family's health with a few rules such as these.

Never more than half an hour between refrigerator and table.

If the trip is longer than this time, arrange for some refrigeration en route or else carry the food in unopened cans.

Cook-outs are perhaps best of all. Meat that is broiled over an open fire not only tastes wonderful but is much safer than in cold sandwiches.

Children need milk whether at home or on a picnic. Fresh milk is difficult to carry and hard to keep cool. Try using canned milk. Take the unopened cans, dilute with water at mealtime. Carry your own water if you're not sure of the supply at the picnic spot. If the children do not care for the taste of evaporated milk, add a little flavoring. The addition of a little chocolate syrup, or a mashed banana, or a can of baby pureed prunes or apricots to the evaporated milk make delightful drinks that add a special party flavor to the picnic.

If your small fry are scornful of canned milk don't let them see you open the can. The strong flavor you add to the milk completely masks the canned taste of the milk and they'll drink the finished product with gusto if they don't know it's canned milk.

Sergeant Seen As Bully By Former PWs

NEW YORK (AP)—Testimony of former POWs has pictured an American sergeant as a prison camp bully who caused three deaths during a bitter North Korean winter.

The court-martial of Sgt. James C. Gallagher yesterday turned to the deaths of two fellow prisoners. Hutmates of Gallagher said he tossed the sick and emaciated men out of the hut and left them to die in 40-degree-below-zero weather.

The case of a third prisoner who died after allegedly being beaten by Gallagher was told in Monday's testimony.

Gallagher, a tall, 23-year-old red blond with a boyish-looking face, is the only American ever tried on charges of having directly caused the death of GI prisoners in North Korea. He is accused of unpremeditated murder, which is classed as second degree, and of collaborating with his Red captors.

Witnesses against Gallagher, whose home is in Brooklyn, said he carried favor with the Reds and got warm clothing and extra food while they shivered in regular Army fatigue uniforms and were ill from malnutrition. They said they were too sick to oppose Gallagher when he allegedly threw John W. Jones, of Detroit, and Donald T. Baxter, of Waukon, Iowa, into the cold.

Walter J. Bolinsky, a 23-year-old former POW from Bloomsburg, Pa., said he knew the men were alive at the time because he saw them move.

"Did you hear any of the prisoners say anything?" he was asked. Bolinsky answered:

"I heard one ask to come back inside. Then Gallagher stuck his head out and said he wouldn't let him in until he went on a wood detail."

The next morning, Bolinsky testified the men were stiff and dead in "approximately the same place they were the night before."

Another ex-serviceman, Miguel Galvan, 26, of Harlingen, Tex., said he heard Gallagher berate the sick men and accuse them of being too lazy to go outside to a toilet.

Galvan said he objected when Gallagher allegedly threw the men out. He said he recalled saying, "Don't put those men outside. It's too cold for them to lie outside."

Earlier in the day three other witnesses gave similar accounts. In the courtroom to hear the story was Jones' mother Mrs. Loretta Jones.

Attorney Says Osteopath Law Will Not Hold

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton today held unconstitutional a Missouri law permitting the State Assn. of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons to specify education requirements for renewal of licenses.

Dalton said the state constitution doesn't allow the Legislature to delegate such power to a private organization. He held the requirement is void and can no longer be enforced.

The opinion was written at the request of Rep. Joseph W. Martino (D) of St. Louis, House Appropriations chairman. He said some Missouri osteopaths had complained the requirement was being used to force payment of the association's "exorbitant" dues.

Martino said the association had required that applicants for license renewal each year must show they had attended at least one of four meetings.

The Association's own state convention, the American Osteopathic Assn. convention, the Kansas City child's health conference or a refresher course in osteopathy held at Kirksville, Mo.

The complaining osteopaths reportedly said the required meetings are also used to force payment of dues in the Missouri Assn. of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons and that the annual dues of the association have run $75 or $85 a year.

Dalton held:

"This delegation of authority to the Missouri Assn. of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons is unconstitutional and void. It is as if never enacted and it gives no authority to the Missouri Assn. of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons."

Ike Signs AEC Bill On Agency Business Information Access

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed a bill requiring that all members of the Atomic Energy Commission be given "full access to all information" on agency business.

However, he called the requirement "unnecessary" on the ground that present law achieves the same purpose. He added in a statement that he signed the measure only because of another provision in it.

The bill is an offshoot of the long fight over the Dixon-Yates contract which the White House instructed the AEC to negotiate.

Sen. Anderson (D-Nm.), one of the bill's sponsors, has said AEC Commissioner Thomas E. Murray felt he sometimes was not kept fully informed.

The section of the bill which Eisenhower favored permits paying the salary of an interim appointee to fill an existing vacancy on the AEC.

Urged to End Waste Disposal in River

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Communities along the Mississippi River in this area were urged today by the Bi-State Development Agency to take steps against increased pollution of the river.

The agency was created by joint legislation in Missouri and Illinois to promote proposed industrial expansions in the St. Louis area.

The agency, in a report submitted to the governors of Missouri and Illinois, said that 75 per cent of the pollution was due to industrial waste.

Sea Elephant Showing Signs of an Appetite

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Zoo Director George P. Vierheller said today he believes the hunger strike of the zoo's 1,300-pound female sea elephant may be near an end.

The animal has been fed forcibly at intervals since its arrival here in April.

Vierheller based his belief on the fact the animal sniffed at its fish dinner for the first time. The sea elephant still hasn't taken a bite voluntarily, however.

FTC Head Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward F. Howrey resigned today from the Federal Trade Commission and the White House said former Republican Gov. Sigurd Anderson of South Dakota is slated to succeed him.

Black Widows; Poison Ivy....

What has happened to Sedalia's black widow spiders?

A year ago there was quite a to-do over the insect with the orange-colored hour glass on the underside of its abdomen. Housewives went on a crusade with brooms, sticks and sprays around house foundations and garages searching out the dreadful pest. Some persons, and few indeed, were reported bitten—but no deaths. Many of these spiders were captured and placed in captivity in glass jars. Some reached the newspaper office.

But so far this year there has been no report of a black-widow menace, and no prison jars brought downtown for display.

Nevertheless children should be warned against the black widows which are easily identified.

Something that isn't so easily identified by children—or adults, either—is poison ivy which the whole family should learn to recognize especially during summer and fall outing season when nature lovers and vacationists encounter the weed to their sorrow. It's found just about everywhere in dry and rocky or damp and fertile soil, abundant in many resort areas and on wasteland near beaches. Getting rid of poison ivy weeds is just about as easy as eliminating rag weed from which hay fever addicts suffer.

Poison ivy is a perennial which may grow in the form of a low shrub or a climbing vine. It has three dark green leaves that are often waxy above and hairy below. The leaves are about four inches in size and may be reddish in color when young. The flowers are small and greenish white. They are replaced by clusters of white or gray berries about one-quarter inch in diameter. Birds spread the berries, which contain seeds, to new areas.

Recognizing poison ivy and avoiding contact with it will save ruining a vacation with much suffering. Touching the weed sets up an irritation to the skin causing blisters, inflammation and considerable discomfort. A highly volatile oil in the leaves does it.

So for summer comfort learn to recognize poison ivy and black widow spiders. Avoid them if you can.

Drew Pearson Says—

Ike Golfs and Studies Special Session

WASHINGTON — With Congress out of town, President Eisenhower is spending more time on the golf course at Gettysburg and at the Burning Tree Club just outside of Washington.

Caddies at Burning Tree have got to know the President almost as well as some members of the cabinet know him. As far as golf is concerned they know him better. And some of the caddies have quite a collection of his golf balls, the gift to Ike of a sporting goods firm, with "Mr. President" stamped on them. The President usually gives one or two away during a match, but they are kept as souvenirs by the lucky recipients and never put back into play.

Golfing companions have noted a special improvement in Ike's driving; he consistently pokes 'em off the tee for 200 yards or longer. However, he is still a little erratic in his putting and approach shots, particularly on "chip" shots that have to be lofted over a trap. He works on this whenever he has time to practice on the White House lawn.

In a regular match the President shoots in the high 80's, better than average at Burning Tree. But he is a fierce competitor, hates to lose to anyone, even his son John, now stationed at nearby Fort Belvoir, Va. John hits a longer ball but is not as good a putter as his father, who usually beats him by a few strokes.

Other favorite golfing cronies of the President include Col. Tom Belshe, a retired army officer, Jack Westland of Washington, and GOP Congressman Charlie Halleck of Indiana and Les Arends of Illinois.

Westland was national amateur golfing champion in 1932. However, Ike keeps his favorite sport on a bi-partisan plane by sometimes inviting Rep. George Mahon of Texas or another Democrat to join in a foursome.

Danger on Golf Course

The President insists on splitting caddy fees with his foursome partner. Counting tips, this usually is $7 for 18 holes, making Ike's share $3.50. He always pays off in crisp new bills. At the end of a match, he "replays" his good and bad shots while under the shower or while chatting with fellow players over refreshments at the "19th hole."

Ike is an eager beaver type on the green and moves so fast after teeing off that he sometimes is standing over his ball while companions, who may be lying farther from the green and therefore are entitled to the next shot, are preparing to swing again.

This causes some concern at Burning Tree. "Suppose," remarked one of Ike's golfing pals, "one of us should accidentally hit the President while he is standing there ahead of us." He is such a strong competitor and so engrossed in his game that he doesn't think about the possibility of getting conked by a stray ball.

When the President is advised of his risky position, he apologizes and steps back with a grin so the game can go on. The secret service keeps a vigilant eye on the chief executive, though not out of fear that he may be hit by a golf ball.

Record Bankruptcies

Despite the full-blown prosperity in most of the U. S., bankruptcy cases in the same U. S. are at an all-time high. This probably represents the difficulty of small business to compete against the modern methods of big business.

How many companies are going bankrupt is indicated by the recent request of the Commerce Department for the largest amount of money in history for salaries to referees in bankruptcy. Acting on this request, the House Banking and Currency committee stated:

"The committee was advised that approximately 65,000 bankruptcy cases will be filed in 1955, that a total increase of 75,000 in 1956 can be expected. This would be the highest number of bankruptcies recorded in the history of the country."

Meanwhile the profits of General Motors during the first year of the Eisenhower administration increased approximately 50 per cent.

Special Session

Eisenhower had a talk with top Republican leaders in Congress just before they left Washington, and explained to them what his strategy would be in regard to a special session of Congress.

Now Ike is the last one who would want a special session of Congress. He doesn't particularly relish having Congress in town, always feels better when they're out of town.

But he notified leaders that he would call a meeting of his council of economic advisers in late September and get from them a prognostication in regard to the economic condition of the nation. They have been warning him that runaway inflation might cause trouble around the spring of '56. This is the worst time from a political point of view for the Republican party to have a recession.

But the White House economic advisers, though not entirely unanimous, have feared that the tremendous sale of automobiles this year, plus the sale of houses, most of it installment-plan buying, might overload consumer buying power and lead to a retrenchment.

Therefore, if the President's economic advisers take a dim view of the future in late September, Eisenhower told congressional leaders he would call Congress back in October to pass a highway bill. This would provide new spending and stave off any recession.

Note — Meanwhile some of the publicity experts around the White House — and Ike has a lot of them — are undertaking a gross roots drive to put the heat on congressmen while they are at home to step up sentiment for a highway bill.

Guest Editorial—

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: Water-Bombs Away! The college prankster who somehow thinks it funny to drop a paper bag filled with water on or near somebody can find a future in that sort of thing now if he wishes. Canadian forest rangers have found that an enlarged version of the water bomb, using a laminated paper bag and dropped from a low-flying airplane, can check or control a small forest blaze until ground crews can reach the fire to extinguish it. The bags, each holding 3½ imperial gallons (about four U. S. gallons), are often dropped in "strings" of eight.

Now, using a different type of plane, the foresters believe they have improved on the first system. They have equipped a plane with a 240-gallon water tank which can be tipped to dump the load in three or more installments where needed. The water is said to be the more effective because it reaches the ground in the fire area as a fine rain. Now, wait till the rainmakers get hold of that idea!

Farewell To Venice

Even Venice must succumb to the ravages of time. We are saddened to learn that the ancient and beautiful city celebrated by lovers and artists from Casanova to Ernest Hemingway might disappear in another 50 years.

Pity the American tourist. What innocent abroad with dollars to spend has not crossed the romantic, though often ill-smelling canals in a gondola, or resisted the temptation to feed the pigeons on the fabulous St. Mark's Square in the shadow of the great cathedral?

No, it is not the cold war that is destroying Venice; it is mother nature. The foundations of Venice's buildings, lapped by the tides for centuries, have been badly eroded. The corrosive action of the waves against the masonry is less spectacular than war but just as damaging.

As the Venetian himself will tell the eager American tourist — not without some exaggeration, to be sure: "One house out of every two along the Grand Canal is still standing only because it is too tired to fall down."

But 50 years is a long time in human history and the Venetians, a gay and lighthearted lot on the whole, have their minds on less weighty matters. Right now they wonder whether Venice will have a successful season this summer as the holiday-maker's mecca.

Which reminds us of O. Henry's millionaire who courted a beautiful salesgirl in a department store. He painted glowing pictures of their honeymoon in Venice, with rides in gondolas lit by colored lanterns, fireworks and romantic serenades.

"Oh, yes," replied the practical lassie from Manhattan, "I've been to Coney Island before."

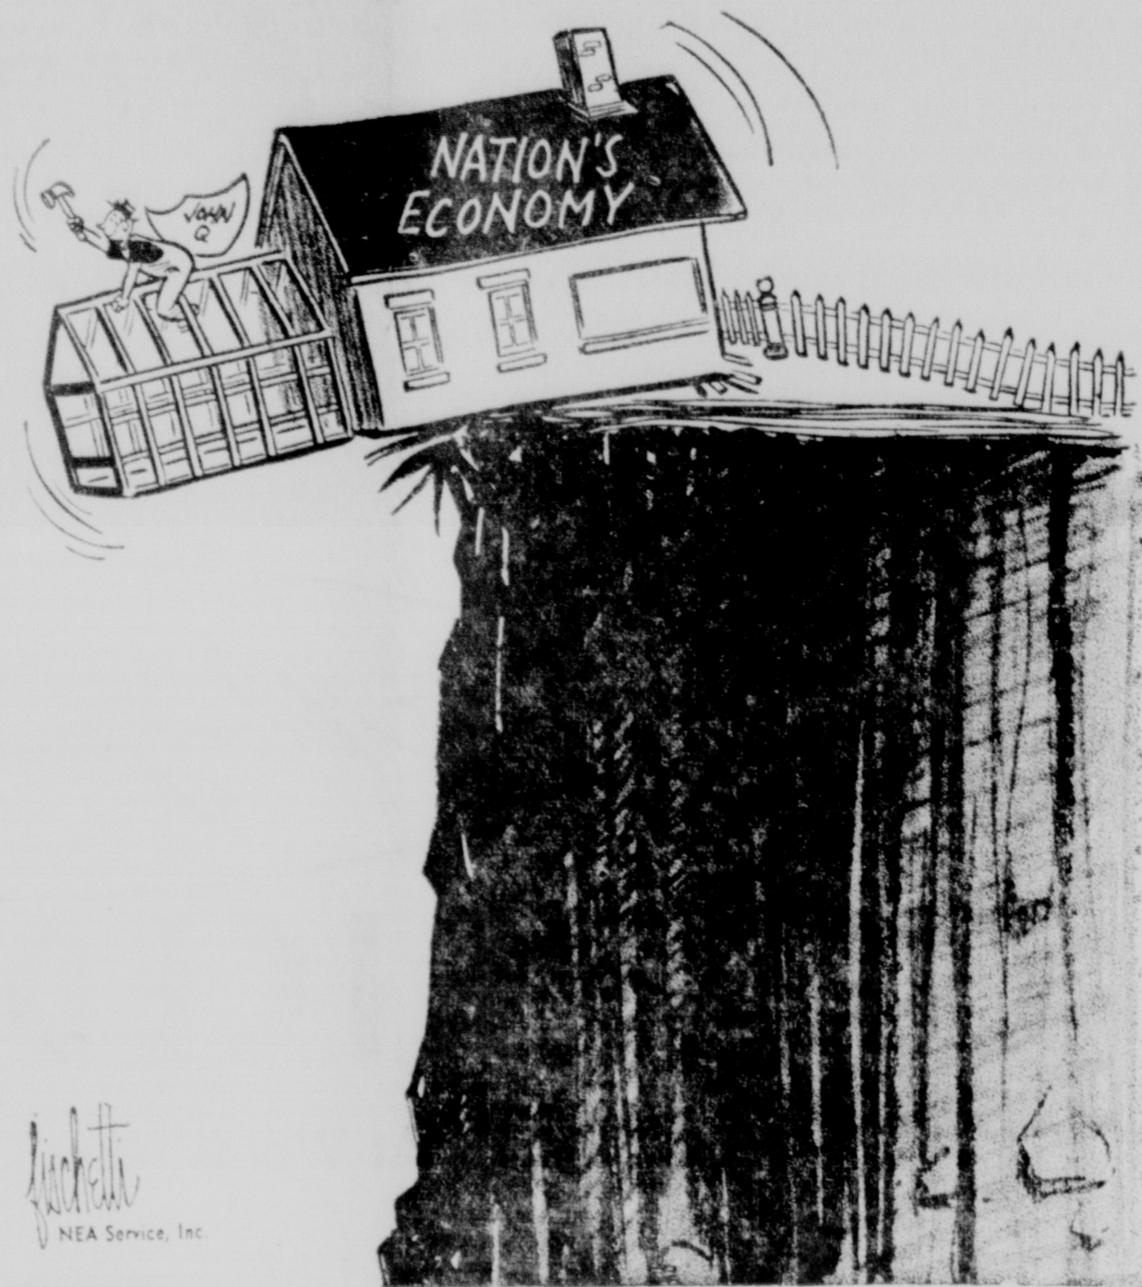

The Missouri Valley extends from Montana to Missouri, including parts of 10 states, and embraces nearly one-sixth of the total area of the United States.

Senate Group Gives Ike a Blank Check

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—An influential Senate group has given President Eisenhower a blank check in deciding whether to support the idea of a United Nations' conference to consider changes in its charter. After many hearings, this group—a subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, headed by Sen. George (D-Ga)—said yesterday Eisenhower should be free to suit himself on backing the conference.

Even if he did, that wouldn't necessarily mean there would be any charter changes. The United States could block any it didn't like. This is the background on the problem:

When the founding nations created the U.N. in 1945 they knew they had not established a perfect organization and that time and experience would probably show a need for changes. They provided for that in the charter itself.

They said in Article 109 that if by 1955 no changes had been made, then this year the General Assembly should have the question of charter changes on its list of problems to be considered at its meeting next month.

The 60 nations in the Assembly could squint at the charter-change problem and forget it. Or, they could set up a U.N. conference to consider changes. They wouldn't have to put the conference to work in 1955. They could let it start later.

There could be no changes unless:

1. Two-thirds of the conference approved.
2. Two-thirds of the parliaments of the 60 U.N. nations approved.
3. The Big Five — the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Nationalist China — also approved.

In short, even though two-thirds of the U.N. members approved, any one of the Big Five could block any changes simply by its parliament or congress saying no.

In the case of the United States, there would be no approval unless two-thirds of the Senate gave their blessing.

Any change in the charter in the foreseeable future is unlikely. There is no world clamor for it. Far from it. Russia already has expressed opposition to changes at this time. That in itself, unless the Russians have changed their mind, kills any chance of revision.

As long ago as 1953 the Eisenhower administration, principally through Secretary of State Dulles, was on record in favor of a conference to consider changes. But that, as pointed out, is a long way from actually approving any changes.

And by this time the administration may have had second thoughts on a conference. Former Presidents Truman and Hoover last spring both said they thought there was small chance of revisions in the charter now.

A fight within the U.N. itself on changes might not only damage the organization but wreck it, particularly if the United States and Russia, which have been getting along better lately, wound up in a slugging match.

Eye Bank Started

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—This state's first Eye Bank is being established at the State University of Iowa Medical Center with the support of Iowa Lions Clubs. The 250 plus Lions Clubs have already raised more than $10,000 to get the Eye Bank started.

It will be under the direction of Dr. Alton E. Braley, professor and head of ophthalmology at the University. It is primarily intended to provide a clearing house for corneas removed from the eyes of persons who bequeath their eyes for medical use after their deaths.

Iowa recently enacted a law permitting the willing of parts of the body for medical use.

'Nine Young Men' Study Their Job to Stop War

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Democrat-Capital

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — In FDR days there was much talk about "the nine old men" of the Supreme Court. Today there is no talk about "the nine young men" who may be much more important. Their job is "to stop war."

Hidden away in the weathered, old, Victorian-looking, State Department Building these nine men slip in and out of their offices where everything is "top secret." Only the name of their boss, Harold E. Stassen, hits the headlines. The nine do not want to be identified.

Their job is to find a feasible way to slow down or stop the world's armament race. Their objective: peace.

Officially, since March 19, known as the Arms Limitation policy staff, they were recruited from other government agencies. The oldest is 49, the youngest 30.

How do these unnamed Soldiers of Peace begin to commence on such a task?

First, they examine all the old and new causes of war. That's easy compared to determining the meaning of current war provoking developments. But every new thing that happens around the world is analyzed by experts for these can call on anyone working for the government.

One answer is not immediately expected: that the United States should disarm completely. It's even conceivable the nine men might recommend strengthening our military might as the best peace insurance.

Stassen has said when the entire world knows what nuclear weapons really mean, peace making will be a necessity.

Freeze Your Summer Foods Now for Future Winter Use

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Big, puffy clouds scudding across the August sky remind us that summer is sliding by, the corn is ripe and roadside vegetable stands present a luscious picture of good eating to come. There are supposed to be 8,500,000 of us who either own freezers or patronize freezer-locker plants, and I'm one of the crowd. If you're as proud of your big, zero cold box as I am you'll want to take full advantage of every cubic inch of it. So, a few tips from home economists are in order.

Freezing is certainly one of the easiest ways of preserving food. So easy, in fact, that when I hear the plaintive "what can I do now, mama?" rising like a locust's buzz, I wrap my daughter in an apron and let her flip the melon balls or string the beans for the freezer.

First tip is not to overload the freezer. If room temperature is over 80 don't attempt to freeze more than 50 pounds of food within 24 hours. Overloading slows down the freezing of new food and raises the temperature of surrounding frozen food.

Proper packaging is high on the experts' list as the key to successful freezing. Packaging materials must be moisture proof, strong, and durable and, to my way of thinking, inexpensive. For bulky, irregular-shaped meat, fish or poultry you'll find heavy aluminum foil, freezerweight cellophane, plastic film and laminated paper.

There is also a wide choice of freezer packages for vegetables, fruits and berries. I've had good luck with several kinds, but when I have junior help or am in a hurry I think the rigid containers are the fastest and easiest to fill. These are the square waxboard containers with rigid plastic lids. These seal with a single press-down motion.

Naturally you'll freeze only fruits or vegetables that are in peak condition. Ideally, they should be frozen the same day they are picked. If you have a garden, the rule of thumb is two hours from garden to freezer. If you rely on neighboring farmers or markets as I do, shop early the day you plan to freeze and buy only what you know you can handle in one day.

Get your freezer supplies ready a day ahead. Vegetables, according to almost every home economist, should be blanched before freezing.

I've known homemakers who don't blanch vegetables and say they have never had any spoilage or loss of flavor. But I stick with fidence, "I'll just bring her home to live with you, too."

"Why don't you live with her folks?" asked the mother.

The youngster pondered only a few minutes then he said, "No, I think we'll just live with you." He took a deep breath, looked up at his mother with a little smile and added, "And you can be baby sitter for our children." — H.L.

Hoover Makes Speech Today In Oregon

NEWBERG, Ore. (AP)—This Willamette Valley town today helped Herbert Hoover celebrate his 81st birthday.

Hoover comes to Newberg, where he lived as a boy some 70 years ago, to speak at the dedication, as a national shrine, of the cottage which was his home.

The former President, spry and fashionable in a new straw hat, arrived by plane in Salem, 30 miles south of here last evening. He was 18 hours ahead of schedule because he wanted to get plenty of rest for the big day. There was no official reception in Salem because only a few friends knew he was arriving early.

As a boy, Hoover moved to Newberg after his parents' death to live with his uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Henry R. Minthorn. The Minthorn cottage has been restored to its 1884 condition by the Herbert Hoover Foundation. Hoover will speak there.

The State Highway Commission planned official dedication of a new 25-mile stretch of the Pacific Highway between Portland and Newberg as Herbert Hoover Boulevard.

Hoover made the trip to Oregon with A. C. Mattei, a San Francisco oil executive and a long-time friend; Mrs. Mattei; and Bernice Miller, Hoover's secretary.

Hoover plans to leave after the ceremonies for his favorite fishing stream, the McKenzie River in southwestern Oregon.

Training School Superintendent Is Slugged

CHILLICOTHE (AP)—Mrs. Florence Dennis, superintendent of the State Training School for Girls, was slugged over the head early today by a man who told officers he entered the institution to get some of the girls out.

Mrs. Dennis, hit over the head several times by the armed man, suffered lacerations and shock.

A short time after the incident, a man was apprehended in a nearby field. Officers said he gave his name as Norman Dale Webb, 20, Roswell, N. M.

Mrs. Dennis, sleeping in her second floor room in the administration building, said she was awakened when another woman, whose room the man entered, began screaming.

The superintendent went to investigate and was pursued down the steps by the armed intruder. At the door of the administration building, she was hit over the head several times. The man then fled through the back door, through which he had gained entry.

Highway Patrolman Russell Purdy said Webb told officers he didn't have any particular girl in mind, but just wanted to help free some of the girls, whom he thought were staying in the building.

Webb was held in the Livingston County jail.

Margaret Truman To Tour Europe

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—Margaret Truman arrived aboard the liner United States today for a six-week tour of Europe.

She will go to Salzburg, Austria, to join Guri Lie, daughter of former U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie. The two will tour central Europe, attending the music festival at Salzburg and the film festival at Venice.

Pretty pastry shells, in individual size, are easy to make. For each shell cut out four 2½-inch circles from pie dough. Overlap the circles in muffin-pan cups and bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven about 15 minutes. Use stick-form piecrust mix for the pastry because it won't toughen as you roll to cut the small circles for the shells.

Russians Say Treatments Aid Radiation Ills

GENEVA (AP)—Two Soviet scientists today made a detailed report on the medical treatment given two Russians now said to be completely recovered from acute atomic radiation.

The scientists made it plain they do not consider their method a cure for radiation injuries. But they said it is effective in alleviating the severity of radiation symptoms and "in bringing about clinical recovery."

The two experts—A. K. Guskova and G. D. Blasogolov—presented their paper at a technical session of the atoms-for-peace conference dealing with health and safety aspects of nuclear energy.

The treatment they described consisted primarily of early use of powerful antifungal drugs, such as penicillin, plus various other drugs to stop bleeding. This method also has been used in the United States.

In addition, the two Soviet patients had a special diet rich in proteins and vitamins; internal doses of vitamins B1, B6 and C; blood transfusions every three to five days; and special hygienic treatment of the skin.

Girl Undaunted After Being Lost On a Mountain

DENVER (AP)—Blonde Colleen Patton, 11, leaves Mercy Hospital here today with only a few scratches and a sunburned face to show for her harrowing 26-hour wanderings on the slopes of 14,260-foot Mt. Evans.

The youngster was found at noon yesterday, 15 miles from the spot where she had become lost while on a vacation outing.

From her bed at the hospital, Colleen said she was undaunted by the experience and added: "I want to finish my vacation." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Patton of Clifton Hills, Mo.

She became lost near timberline Monday after motoring up the Mt. Evans highway, highest in the world, with her uncle, Robert Taylor of Armstrong, Mo., and her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. William Trester Jr. of Kansas City.

Search parties of more than 150 men fanned out over the dense terrain. They were joined by a helicopter which skimmed low over the treetops.

Colleen finally was found by workers at a ranch near Evergreen, tired and hungry, but apparently not otherwise harmed.

Mt. Evans is 65 miles west of here.

Fur Union Denied AFL Membership

CHICAGO (AP)—The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor has refused to approve the merger of a member union with the Fur and Leather Workers union.

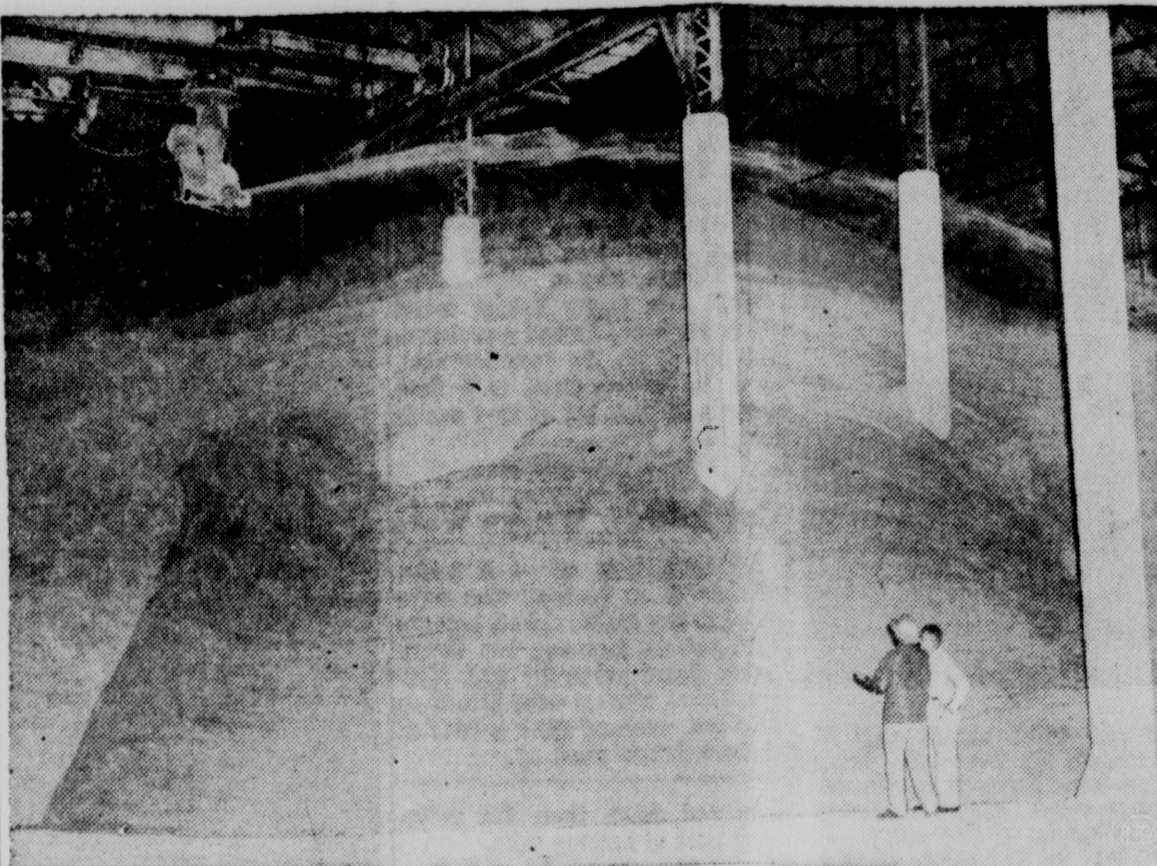

The 60,000-member fur workers union was ousted from the Congress of Industrial Organizations on charges of Communist domination.

The 232,000-member AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen yesterday announced that it has taken control of the fur workers union and has forced out 11 officials the AFL considered "objectionable."

Preparing to Defeat China's UN Attempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is preparing to combat Red China's strongest bid yet for a United Nations seat by using the maneuver which worked successfully in the past two years.

U. S. officials are readying for use when the U. N. General Assembly meets at New York City on Sept. 20 a resolution effect of which would be to rule out for the year any consideration of proposals to replace Nationalist China.

Last year, despite Communist bloc objections, the General Assembly overwhelmingly adopted a resolution.

Attempt Settling Strike on MFA At Joplin Plant

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—Union and company officials will hold a meeting tomorrow in an attempt to end a two-day strike by members of Local No. 601, International Chemical Workers Union, against the Missouri Farmers Assn.

Some 100 members at the association's food plant division, near here, went on strike Monday night. The plant continued partial operation yesterday with a standby crew of supervisory personnel.

Thursday's meeting was called by Claude Hawley, federal mediator. Cale Worfield, St. Louis, organizer for the union, is expected to attend the negotiations.

Workers are demanding a wage hike of 10 cents an hour with a shift differential of 7 cents for the night shift and 14 cents for overnight workers.

Elmo Burrows, president of the local, said the differential would be in addition to a 10 cents across the board increase.

The association recognized the union as the bargaining agent for the workers last March, but a formal contract has never been negotiated.

The factory produces plant fertilizers.

Trouble for Climber

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Joe Lee Hutt, 10-year-old Alabama boy, climbed onto a roof to look for a tennis ball yesterday but it took a hook and ladder truck to get him back down.

The boy, his 15-year-old brother and two cousins were playing with the ball in the yard of the cousins' home here when it went out of sight over the roof.

Joe climbed the back porch, crawled up to the peak of the roof on the two-story house and then found he couldn't get down. His mother, Mrs. Mildred Hutt of Tuscaloosa, Ala., called the fire department. The ball still is missing.

Flying Finn Twins Released from LA On Probation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Parole Board announced today that the flying Finn twins of Los Angeles were released this morning at the Federal Correctional Institution on Terminal Island, Los Angeles.

The 41-year-old brothers, George and Charles Finn, had served 108 days on a one-year sentence for interference with a federal officer. They made what they called a "citizens arrest" of a federal prosecutor in a dispute with the government over the ownership of a surplus plane they had contracted to buy.

While they were held at the Federal Medical Center at Springfield, Mo., the two former war pilots staged a long hunger strike. Later they gave up that protest and were given a parole hearing at Springfield. They were flown to Los Angeles yesterday. They will be under supervision of a probation officer.

Sign Loyalty Oaths

ST. LOUIS (AP)—James Drought, deputy director of the Public Housing Authority here, said more than 4,000 persons living in federally aided low-rent housing projects have signed a loyalty oath since April, 1953.

Drought, who made the report yesterday, said every tenant in the FHA projects here has willingly signed the oath. The federal regulation went into effect two years ago.

Ike Signing Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower yesterday signed bills extending the defense production and small business administration laws.

The defense production law provides for allocations and priorities in funneling materials to military and atomic contracts and help in building the capacity of defense plants. It also forbids ships and planes to visit Red China or to carry items destined for Red China.

The business measure increases the total revolving fund available for small business loans from 150 million dollars to 175 millions. It also increases the maximum loan a single firm may get to $250,000.

If your child's learning to use a pen, provide an old fountain pen—filled with bluing. Looks and writes like ink, but won't stain clothes or furniture.

Maybe you have a boy, like my grandson, who thinks he's too old for a bib—but isn't. A big cowboy bandana works just as well, and looks he-man to boot.

Investigate Government's Press Policy

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Just what kind of information do government agencies withhold from the public, the press, radio and TV and Congress—and why?

Do the agencies give out enough information to keep the public informed of what goes on in its government?

A House Government Operations subcommittee set out today to determine the answers. It was established specifically to inquire into government information policies.

It sent out 5½ pages of questions asking all federal executive and independent agencies to explain by Sept. 15 their practices and policies in giving out information.

Said the subcommittee chairman, Rep. Moss (D-Calif.):

"Through a cooperative effort we can determine the basic information policies of the federal agencies and find out, once and for all, whether there is arbitrary and capricious action because of a lack of definite, consistent policies."

In announcing the study last June 23, Chairman Dawson (D-Ill.) of the full Government Operations Committee said accusations had been made that government agencies are withholding and suppressing information. He didn't identify the accusers.

Criticism has been focused on a March 29 directive from Secretary of Defense Wilson saying that information from the Pentagon must be "constructive" to the mission of the Defense Department. A Pentagon spokesman said later the criteria was not meant to be applied to newsmen's questions but only to information originating in the department's public relations offices. The directive has been criticized by some professional newsmen's organizations.

The House group had 80 questions on its questionnaire, divided into three general groupings of information to the general public, to the press and to Congress.

Herbert Hoover Suggests Praise Of the Country

NEWBERG, Ore. (AP)—Herbert Hoover said today on his 81st birthday, "We should lift our eyes unto the hills from whence cometh our help. We should occasionally mention something good about ourselves."

The former President, in an address prepared for delivery at the dedication of his boyhood home here as a national shrine, said, "During the last score of years our American way of life has been deluged with criticism."

"Altogether, if we look at the criticisms alone, we seem to be in a very, very bad way."

But, he continued, "we could point out that our American way of life has perfected the greatest productivity of any nation on earth; that our standard of living is the highest in the world."

"In the government field we could suggest that our supposedly decadent people still rely upon the ballot and the legislative hall to settle their differences without a secret police with slave camps."

"And we could suggest that we alone, of all nations, fought in two world wars and asked no indemnities, no acquisition of territory, no domination over other nations."

Hoover said he, himself, has joined in criticism of the American scene "because of my anxieties over mistaken policies and especially the influence of Karl Marx on our way of life."

Grave Editing Needed

OVID, Mich. (AP)—It says on his gravestone he died in 1945, but Charlie Starr was still going strong on his 102nd birthday in 1955.

When his wife died several years ago, Starr thought he would save some trouble by having a gravestone made for himself. He had "1945" chiseled on it, figuring a couple of years' difference wouldn't matter.

Now the stone is 10 years off, and Charlie only last year gave up his regular exercise of chinning himself on an apple tree in the backyard.

Indian-Head Nickel Chief Pleads Guilty

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Chief John Bigtree, whose nose appears on the Indian-head nickel, pleaded guilty in police court yesterday to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $100 and his driver's license was revoked.

The 79-year-old Seneca chief was arrested last June 3 after his car struck a fire hydrant. He told Judge Truman H. Preston he had been driving since 1924 and it was his first offense.

The head on the nickel is a composite created by sculptor James Fraser from three representative Indian models.

Checking For Commies In Entertainment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Walter (D-Pa.) said today he expects the House Un-American Activities Committee to find "a lot of people in the entertainment business who've been Communists" and who have used their "large incomes" to further Red causes.

Walter, in an interview, listed 27 actors, writers and other Broadway figures a subcommittee plans to question at weeklong hearings beginning Monday in New York City.

Among those he named were Stanley Prager, actor-director appearing in the Broadway musical "Pajama Game"; Sam Jaffe, film and stage actor; Jerome Chodorov, writer of the stage and screen versions of "My Sister Eileen"; Lou Polan, a feature player in the Broadway comedy "Bus Stop"; Zero Mostel, television and stage comedian; Ivan Black, advertising and publicity man; Joshua Shelley, a musical comedian in "Phoenix '55" now playing here.

Walter said some of the questioning will be about alleged Communist activities as late as this year. Some of those subpoenaed, he added without mentioning names, were identified as Communist party members "as far back as 1951."

The House committee, which for years has directed its entertainment-world investigations primarily at Hollywood, has said many of the alleged Reds have moved to Broadway.

Immigration Service Won't Arrest Aliens

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Immigration Service plans to stop arresting aliens in most deportation cases.

Instead, it will serve an alien with an order to show cause why he should not be deported.

Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing, announcing the plans yesterday, said the new action "will relieve many aliens from the stigma of being served with a warrant of arrest and being placed on parole or being forced to post bond."

The new regulations will be adopted sometime this fall unless public reaction causes some changes before then.

Dies When Harmonica Device Strangles Him

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Larry George Wealand, 13, was strangled in his bedroom yesterday by a harmonica holder he had rigged up himself. He was found slumped over the edge of his bed with one end of a belt tied to a metal rod at the head of the bed and the other end looped around his neck.

The support was designed to hold a harmonica to his mouth and free both hands to play a guitar. A deputy coroner said the mattress apparently slipped off the edge of the bed and carried the youth with it, causing the belt to tighten around his neck.

THIS IS MIDGET—A four-year-old cow which stands only 28 inches high, belonging to R. W. Rudosell, 523 West 24th, came from a farm around the Georgia state line. Rudosell bought the little cow last fall and has had her ever since. Midget is expecting the first addition to her family sometime in November. If everything goes right, Rudosell feels that he will indeed have a rarity at that time. He has hopes of selling Midget to an exhibition show sometime in the future. However, if he doesn't get the sale, Rudosell says that Midget is welcome to stay on his farm lot at 24th street and Clinton Avenue. (Staff photo)

Hal Boyle's Column—Gettysburg Residents Proud That Ike Is Their Neighbor

By ED CREAGH (For HAL BOYLE)

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—One thing this proud but friendly battle field town means to do: It is doing its best to take in stride its eminent part-time resident, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

You'll hear this determination stated by many of the town's 7,200 people who have found themselves neighbors to the President. Mostly they put it something like this:

"We're glad to have Ike living here—delighted, in fact. We're proud he picked Gettysburg, out of the whole country, as the place to buy a farm. And, if you come right down to it, it looks as if he's going to be good for the tourist business."

"But don't forget that Gettysburg was on the map long before any of this happened. We had a battle here—remember? and, much as we like him, Ike is not the first president to honor us with his presence."

And of course he isn't, although others haven't spent as much time here.

Gettysburg—and the country—will not forget the November day in 1863 when the lean, melancholy figure of Abraham Lincoln descended from a train (at the gray-painted station still standing here) and delivered a few words:

"Four score and seven years ago . . ."

Other presidents have come to Gettysburg—every one since McKinley, in fact.

But Eisenhower is the first chief executive to take up residence here. He lives—all this week and most summer weekends—in the roomy, air-conditioned house he rebuilt a little south of the town, a stone's throw from where Pickett's charge carried the Confederacy to its high water mark.

What does a town do when it finds a president in its midst?

Gettysburg has done the tactful, dignified thing. It found out what the President wanted, then tried to give it to him.

It made him welcome at the Presbyterian Church, where Lincoln worshipped that memorable day in 1863. The Gettysburg Country Club opened to him, and most good days when he's here see the President happily careening over the golf course in one of the colorfully painted go-carts which the club just happened to buy after it found out he liked them. It fixed up a private locker room for him.

Gettysburg still enjoys having Mamie Eisenhower drop in for a round of shopping at the five-and-

Boy Killed by Gun

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Two boys playing war with toy guns decided to take a look at a real one yesterday. It went off, killing James Wade Byram, 9.

Detective Sgt. P. K. Walk said the Byram boy, visiting here from Dallas, Tex., was playing with David Jones, also 9.

Walk said young Byram asked the Jones boy if he had a real gun. This led them, the detective said, to a .45 calibre pistol in a desk drawer. It went off as they examined it.

Crackdown Works Well

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A police crackdown on persons who have failed to pay traffic tickets brought 1,250 persons jamming into Corporation Court yesterday and Monday. Extra officers were placed on duty last weekend after a backlog of 4,000 tickets piled up.

wandered down from the swimming pool in bathing suits.

Another example of how Gettysburg takes Eisenhower in stride: One weekend the President was playing with the club pro, Dick Schleicher. A newcomer approached Melinda Hauser, the pretty little lifeguard at the club pool, and asked which of the golfers was the President.

"Oh," said Melinda casually, without looking up, "he's the fellow that's playing with Dick."

R-R-R-RUFF—That's the only word for the nation's sizzling weather, and this Cleveland, Ohio, pooch is as dry as the bark on a dogwood, all the way down, as he's showing you. He'll quench that thirst with a glass, and maybe follow it up with a growler

Thirty Year Layoff Doesn't Stop Woman

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It took 34 years for Mrs. Joe Hunt to get through high school, but not because she was slow in learning.

Mrs. Hunt, 49, wife of a Delbarton, W. Va., coal miner, took 30 years off to get married and rear a family of eight children. She finished high school last May.

With almost a full summer's college work at Pikeville Junior College behind her, she is starting on a four-year course which will lead to a high school teacher's certificate.

Betty Grable Chosen Most 'Unactressy'

By JAMES BACON
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD. (P) — A reader asks: "Who is Hollywood's most level-headed, most down-to-earth, in short, most unactressy actress?"

Betty Grable is our choice for that title.

"I don't know how I've lasted this long, I'm so dull," Betty once told me in a classic understatement. She was referring to her lack of sensational front-page headlines a la Monroe or Hayworth. Betty's daily life could be summed up as a race at breakfast with hubby Harry James over who gets to read the sports section; a lot of time spent with her family and her stable of horses; plus a passion for Harry James records.

The James' social life is about as un-Hollywood as can be. Their friends are mostly of the turf set.

"It's amazing how few movie stars we know," she said. "For instance, the closest I ever came to knowing Clark Gable was when we both had the same dentist."

Betty could well afford to be a conceited actress because she is one of the greatest box office stars in the industry's history. In fact, after Darryl Zanuck had an artistic success but box office flop with "Wilson," he commented:

"I'll never make another historical picture unless it has Betty Grable in it."

Always cooperative, Betty took every musical role 20th Century-Fox handed her, but she went on suspension rather than to play a heavy dramatic role in "Pickup on South Street."

"I just told them I'm no dramatic actress," she explained. "I know what I can do best — singing and dancing."

Actually the best thing Betty does is look beautiful. In "How to Be Very, Very Popular," she and Sheree North play a couple of burlesque queens.

Betty was a big star when Sheree was going to the kids' matinee on Saturday afternoons, but in the picture, they look the same age. And, what's more, on the street, they still look the same age.

That's no reflection on Sheree—it's just that Betty's face and figure seem ageless.

Suzan Ball Buried In Her Wedding Apparel

GLENDAL, Calif. (P) — Suzan Ball was buried yesterday in her wedding dress.

More than 1,500 fans and friends passed by as her body lay in state in the Church of the Reformation at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Said Dr. Louis H. Evans, Presbyterian minister, at the celebrity-crowded services later:

"On the stage of life she won an Oscar for courage by the help of God."

He praised the bravery of the 21-year-old actress and her husband, actor Richard Long.

"When they walked down the aisle to the altar just over a year ago, they knew this day might come," said Dr. Evans. "But she taught us what it was like to wear the body like a loose garment. It never constricted her soul nor strangled her spirit."

Miss Ball, who overcame the handicap of a leg amputation 18 months ago to be married and resume her career, died of cancer last Friday.

Laos and U.S. Form Embassies Together

WASHINGTON (P) — The United States and the Indochinese kingdom of Laos announced today they are raising their diplomatic missions in each other's capital to the status of embassies.

That is the top category. Hereafter the missions have been legations.

The State Department, in an announcement timed to coincide with one issued in Vientiane, capital of Laos, said, "This diplomatic development is a symbol of the ever closer ties between the two governments."

U.S. Minister Charles Woodruff Yost will remain at Vientiane, becoming an ambassador.

Rejects $64,000 Question—Shoemaker Takes the Advice From Father; Gets $32,000

NEW YORK (P) — Shoemaker Gino Prato, still accustomed to following his father's advice at the age of 55, has taken his $32,000 and given up on The $64,000 Question.

A cable from Papa Prato in Italy advised: "Stop where you are. Daddy's enough this way. Regards, Daddy."

Airports Get Money Aid from Government

WASHINGTON (P) — The Commerce Department has allocated $933,500 in federal airport aid during the present fiscal year to six communities in Missouri.

The Missouri cities must match the grants dollar-for-dollar.

The grants are Columbia Municipal airport, $23,500; Joplin Municipal airport, $180,000; Kansas City Municipal airport, $300,000; St. Louis Lambert-St. Louis Municipal airport, $300,000; St. Louis Meramec Valley airport, $100,000; Springfield Municipal airport, $30,000.

Bathing Suit Suit

CHARLESTON, S.C. (P) — Claudia A. Hamilton says she went swimming in a new bathing suit and suffered mortification and humiliation, shock, permanent injury to her nerves and "psychic injury to her personality."

The suit, from the waist down, became transparent, she claims in her suit for $20,000 against the Glamor Shops, Inc., of New York.

Crowds spotted her rising from the sea in a semi-nude state, she claims, and a friend rushed to knock her back into the water to cover her form from gaping males.

She said she was forced to walk the gauntlet up the strand encased in a towel "for protection from the leers of the public."

Can't Pay Alimony

LOS ANGELES (P) — Former prize fighter Jacob (Buddy) Baer said yesterday in explaining why he couldn't pay $750 alimony arrears: "I'm too old to fight, and I haven't had enough acting experience to be a good wrestler." The judge dismissed the suit, brought by Baer's estranged wife, May Mann, movie fan magazine writer and Miss Utah of 1938. Baer, 40, said he is a film actor but has earned only $6,000 so far this year—a sum consumed by living expenses.

Jailed for Questions

SEOUL (P) — The Seoul district prosecutor's office today said a U.S. businessman, Murray L. Schwarzman, was jailed for questioning about illegal entry of 460 wrist watches and 2,400 watch bands valued at $230,000.

Schwarzman is manager of the Schwarzman International Trade Co. with offices in Seoul and Hong Kong. His home was given as New York.

amazing operatic lore, did last night.

Before a jammed studio and a vast television audience, Prato took a check for the $32,000 he had won so far. He translated the cable from Genoa, and said:

"Because I take my Daddy's advice all my life, I accept."

Prato said he received the cable from his 92-year-old father this week, in the midst of a dilemma over a deluge of "do" and "don't" advice from well-wishers.

No one yet has tried for the grand prize on the CBS-TV giveaway show.

If Prato had taken a chance and lost, he would have received an expensive automobile as a consolation prize.

Under the policy of the show, the opera question Prato would have faced last night will remain a secret.

Prato in his studio remarks said a local radio station, WOV, recorded his voice and sent it to Italy for his father to hear in the small town of Statale, near Genoa, and then brought back a recording of the father's voice for the cobbler to hear—for the first time in 33 years.

"I was crying all the time," the shoemaker said.

Prato, his wife Caroline and their daughter Lorraine, 23, will leave for Italy to visit his father soon after the daughter is married to Eugene Jonnides, 26, Aug. 27. They would have had the trip even if Prato had tried for the grand prize and lost. A travel agency offered him round-trip tickets.

Reward for Slayer Is Building Subscribers

KANSAS CITY (P) — The Kansas City Crime Commission sought to build up a $10,000 reward fund today in an effort to solve the brutal killing of Mrs. Wilma Allen.

Approximately $3,000 already has been contributed.

A lack of tangible clues handicapped police in their attempt to find the slayer of Mrs. Allen whose nude body was found in a pasture 20 miles southwest of here Sunday.

Mrs. Allen, wife of wealthy automobile dealer William R. Allen Jr., and mother of two young sons, had been shot twice in the head. She vanished last Thursday while on a shopping trip.

Police Chief Bernard C. Brannon said hundreds of calls from persons offering information on the slaying had failed to produce any definite leads.

Bank Teller Arrested For Taking Money

NEW YORK (P) — A young bank teller, who says $46,000 mysteriously disappeared from the bank, is being held on charges of embezzling the money.

William Gerard Gravius, 26, arrested yesterday at a summer bungalow in East Hampton on Long Island, told police the money disappeared after he set it aside to deposit in the bank vault last week. He said he was too scared to tell anyone about it.

The fact that the funds were missing was discovered in a bank audit Friday at the Hillside Avenue branch of the Jamaica National Bank. Gravius, who lives at East Meadow, N.Y., has worked at the bank seven years. His salary was $63 a week.

Police said he gave this explanation:

On the day before the audit he had taken $46,000 from his drawer and carried it to the vault. When he didn't find the head teller to check the money, he left it on the floor of the vault tagged with a slip saying it came from his account.

Three hours later he went back to the vault and discovered the money was gone but was too frightened to tell anyone about it.

Police said the teller was a frequent visitor to trotting race tracks and he explained a recent $2,000 deposit in his personal account as being the result of successful track bets.

Air Force Says Wife Was Notified Before

WASHINGTON (P) — The Air Force says it sent a telegram and a letter to Mrs. Una Schmidt in June 1954 to notify her that her airman husband Daniel C. Schmidt was reported a prisoner in Red China.

Mrs. Schmidt has told reporters that not until November 1954 was she notified Schmidt was a prisoner of war. That was two months after she had married Alford Fine, 21, she said, in the belief Schmidt was dead.

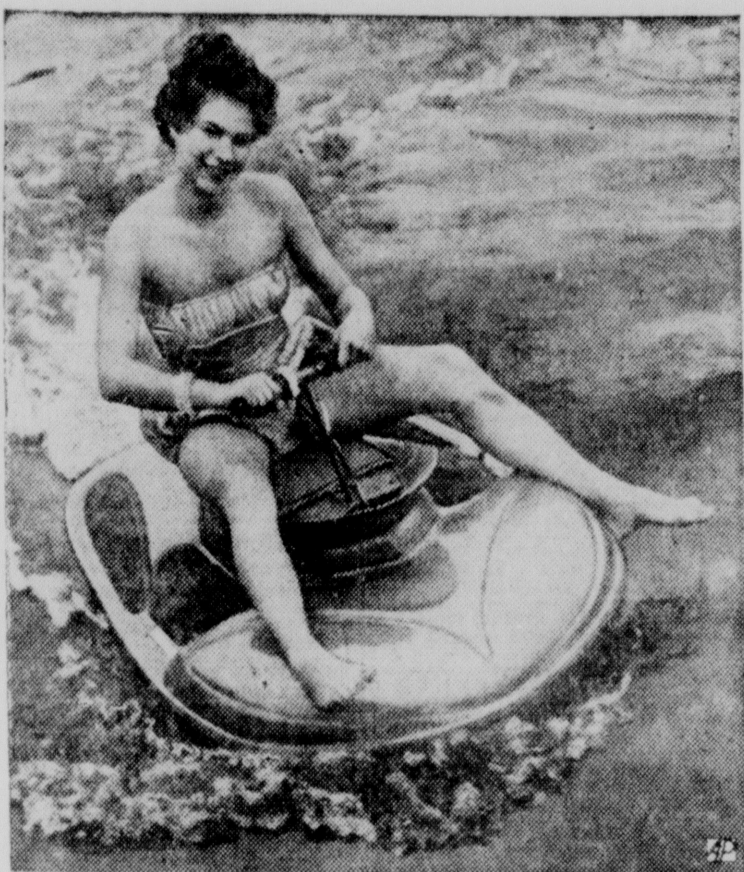

Schmidt, 22, is one of 11 American airmen recently released by the Communists. They are scheduled to arrive Friday at Travis Air Force base near San Francisco.

Mrs. Schmidt's lawyer said she has taken her son Danny, 2½, whom Schmidt has never seen, and is living apart from Fine, a logging worker. The 20-year-old woman is in seclusion with her son in a house trailer near Nevada City, Calif., and was not available for comment on the Air Force statement.

An Air Force spokesman said last night the Air Force had a receipt from Western Union for delivery of its telegram. The spokesman said he did not know who signed the receipt.

Would Mine Ports To Stop British Vessels

Polio Shots Okayed

WASHINGTON (P) — Another batch of Salk polio vaccine has been released for general use.

The Public Health Service announced yesterday 1,177,068 cubic centimeters made by the Wyeth Laboratories, Marietta, Pa., had been released for use by state or local public agencies and by private physicians. Each cubic centimeter is enough for one shot.

The new vaccine will go to the states on the basis of the number of unvaccinated children aged 5-9 in the state. It brought to 2,023,068 c.c.'s the amount allocated thus far for general use, as contrasted with the vaccine going only to the inoculation program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for first and second-graders.

Asked to Form New Government in Nation

KARACHI, Pakistan, (P)—Chaudhri Mohammed Ali, new head of the Moslem League party, was asked today to form a new Pakistan government.

Acting Gov. Gen. Iskander Mirza called on Chaudhri, a key government figure since Pakistan's founding in 1947, to take up the task.

Mohammed Ali, previous leader of the Moslem League, resigned as prime minister after the league elected Chaudhri as its head Sunday. Formerly ambassador to Washington, Mohammed Ali had been Pakistan's third prime minister since April 1953.

The Moslem League, which holds 35 seats in the National Constituent Assembly, and the United Front Party, which holds 25 of the 80 seats, signed an agreement yesterday to form a coalition cabinet.
